

Californians Move to Texas Episode 1: Moving Day
<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=HIDWzN6TW5Y>
Transcript: <https://dontveter.com/ec/CAtoTX1.pdf>

Hello!

Honey, someone's coming to the house! Someone's coming to the house! What do we do, what do we do, what do we do? Who are you?

Call the cops, I'm going to call the cops. We're recording you.

No, no, no, no, it's okay, I'm just your neighbor coming by to say howdy.

Oh, sorry about that, yeah, we're not used to people stopping by to say howdy without assaulting us first, robbing us, or defecating on our lawn, sometimes all three, the trifecta.

We're from Los Angeles, we just moved to Texas.

I figured. Oh, the California plates. Well, yeah, and the masks, inside your own house, no one else around, 2022.

We just want to be extra safe, we feel naked without masks, we'll probably wear them for the rest of our lives, we'll be buried in them.

Okay, well, you seem like a lovely couple, like I said, I just wanted to drop by and welcome you to the neighborhood.

Why? Do you want something?

Oh, no, no, no no, they're, uh, I think he's being friendly, people around here are friendly, like we've seen in the movies, right?

I thought that was just make-believe, like superheroes or families that go to church.

No, no, no, that's a myth, this is real life.

So, uh, I live in that house over yonder, and name's Kevin.

Hi, Kevin, I'm Timpani, she, her and I'm Steve he him. What are your pronouns?

I don't believe in pronouns, I think they're reductive and in fact just you're asking about it is a microaggression.

Oh my gosh, I am so sorry I, I, didn't mean to ...

No, it's okay, I'm just messing with you.

I like all pronouns. My favorite is you, yeah. I don't get it.

Exactly, so if you need anything just holler, my wife and I'd be happy to help.

Baby, he has a gun, calling the cops, I'm recording you, no, no, no, regarding it's okay, it's okay it's just my sidearm.

Everybody here has a gun, sorry.

We don't really like guns, there's a lot of crime where we're from.

I understand, there's not a lot of crime here.

Why?

Because everybody here has a gun.

I don't get it.

You'll get used to it. But what if I don't want to get used to it?

Guns, people walking up to your driveway without masks and without pronouns.

I, I don't think I can live like this.

If it makes you feel more at home we just recently replaced a lot of our electrical grid with unreliable wind power.

Baby, it helps, but honestly, I just don't think I can do this.

Where's the police sirens? Where's the helicopters overhead? Where's the needles in this street?

I just can't live like this, it's so hot and the bugs are so big, so much, ...

Are you a purveyor of fine goods and a patron of quality entertainment?

If so, be sure to like subscribe and comment to support the fine institution known as the Babylon Bee.

And if you don't subscribe you must be one of those unfortunates who can't even afford an in-house sommelier.

Speaking of which, Reginald, bring the 1906 (some kind of wine)